The stories characters and incidents mentioned in these publications are entirely fictional or the author wishes they were. Any resemblance to real persons, living, dead, undead, converted into a cyborg, reanimated, in an altered state of consciousness, transformed into a being of pure energy, in transition to a higher evolutionary form, converted to code and uploaded to the internet, assembled from dead tissue and reborn, devolving to lower states of being, consumed and replicated by pod and/or merely protrusions into our world of advanced pan-dimensional beings is purely coincidental.
